INNOVATION & PROGRESS IN FOOD

Livestock farming is a vital sector for our country. We continuously invest in innovation, knowledge, and quality to offer the best products and services to Cypriot livestock farmers. We listen to your needs and problems and work together to find solutions. We develop and apply our expertise on a daily basis to help you progress and achieve better results.

Our goal is for you to see real results and benefits by feeding our products and following our advice. We measure our success based on your profitability, the health of your animals, and the efficiency of your farm.

KOKITA is a leader in livestock nutrition in the Cypriot market.

- 1 We are a family business
- 2 We have been producing animal food for 28 years
- 3 We focus on the long-term success of our customers
- 4 We are a member of the Panchris Group and employ over 60 people
- 5 We operate the most modern and automated animal feed factory in Cyprus

QUALITY

Our advantage is our quality. Our quality is not limited to our food products. It's about all our processes, people, knowledge, advice, and every action we take. We take samples from all the raw materials we receive and carry out detailed checks and analyses in our ISO17025-accredited chemical laboratory, PANKEMI LAB. Product manufacturing is fully automated with innovative feed production processes. Our team consists of nutritionists, veterinarians, and chemists who ensure the quality and improvement of our feed and services.

PRODUCTS

Each livestock unit is unique. We design the feed that each farmer needs and offer appropriate advice to help you achieve the best results on your farm. We offer a wide range of products for all animals. We produce feed in powder, pellet, and crumble form. Our feed is available in bulk or bagged, in sizes that comply with international standards.

We hold a license for the manufacture of feed containing coccidiostats and/or veterinary drugs.

SERVICES

We expect you to achieve the best results, quality, efficiency, and consequently profitability. We want to be your partner of choice. To achieve this, we focus on each farmer individually, fully understanding their circumstances and needs, in order to offer personalized products and advice. We understand that each unit is unique, taking into account many parameters such as genetic material, livestock facilities, animal health, welfare, environment, nutrition, restrictions, farm management, staff, schedules, technology, and expertise, among many others. Our team of nutritionists, zootechnicians, and veterinarians has the training and expertise to provide the solution that each farm needs.

The support services we offer along with our products are:

- Design and implementation of feed ratio
- Nutritional advice
- Education and training of livestock farmers to improve knowledge and experience
- Laboratory analyses and advice on feed, milk, water, raw materials, etc.
- Improving animal productivity
- Improving animal health and farm efficiency
- Improving farm management
